- TT001 Teaching Vocabulary (Eight Methods of Instruction)
and Teaching Letter Names and Sounds $35.95
(Author: Ethna R. Reid)

This book allows teachers and parents to develop students' excellent visual and auditory discrimination, their ability to detect word parts, and identify syllables. Students learn about the characteristics of the English language. Teachers learn which words to teach through phonics, by sight or context, or through five different word structure methods. They also learn when they should use each method. Through this instruction, students retain what they learn, and by generalizing, they are able to pronounce new words.

- TT002 Teaching Spelling and Teaching Proofing Through Dictation $25.95
TT003 Teaching Manuscript and Cursive Penmanship Skills $17.95
(Author: Ethna R. Reid)

As pupils learn to spell, write legibly and rapidly what they read, and proof their work, their reading levels increase and they use their ability to express themselves in writing more frequently. From the exercises found in Teaching Spelling and Teaching Proofing Through Dictation and Teaching Manuscript and Cursive Penmanship Skills, students learn to evaluate the quality of their writing and spelling. They learn to proof and correct their writing.

- TT004 Teaching Comprehension (Literal, Interpretative, Critical, and Creative) $39.95
(Author: Ethna R. Reid)

Unless students understand the words they read, they lose interest in reading. Comprehension is critical for persons to become lifetime readers. This text includes the rationale and strategies for teaching literal, interpretative, critical, and creative comprehension. Students not only learn to use the comprehension skills as they read, but they also learn to identify questions that test their knowledge of these skills.

- TT005 Teaching Critical Thinking and Specialized Study Skills $39.95
(Author: Ethna R. Reid)

Critical thinking and specialized study skills assist a reader to obtain information more readily and to transfer the information so it makes sense. Teachers use a variety of written materials, literary genre, and content texts to teach such skills.

This text will assist teachers in helping students to accommodate to a different style of writing, which is characterized by tenseness, density of ideas, and inclusion of many unfamiliar and different concepts. Specialized study skills enable students to learn to use resources necessary for effective reading.

- TT006 Teaching Scheduling and Record Keeping $25.95
(Author: Ethna R. Reid)

This basic text helps teachers and parents organize the time they spend teaching language skills and how to teach students to work independently toward mastery. The direct instruction included orients students to a schedule and a record keeping system. Provided record forms may be copied. Recommended materials and equipment for a classroom are listed.

|-------|---|---------|
| TT007 | Teaching Literature(Author: Ethna R. Reid) | $41.95 |

The purpose of this text is to help teachers and students appreciate literature and identify the characteristics of great writing. It helps students to understand types of literature and the author's purpose. The instruction stimulates the interest of listeners and readers in the techniques and devices authors use to convey meaning.

The text is divided into three sections. Section One helps students identify various types of prose, poetry and drama. Section Two focuses on authors and what they do to convey meaning for their readers. Section Three emphasizes the use of sounds and rhythm in language—especially in poetry. Students learn how authors to create a mood, tone, and allusion.

| TT008-2 | Teaching Writing (Creative and Expository) Skills, Book 2(Author: Ethna R. Reid) | $29.95 |

Teaching Writing, Book 1, includes 36 sets of directives to teach at least 120 lessons. The writing skills the teacher will be able to teach with the use of this text include: making sentences tell more; substituting descriptive words for “said” and “walked;” identifying a paragraph; writing so readers can understand and infer; writing a paragraph without irrelevant sentences; quoting sources; writing opinions; judging qualifications to write; learning to proof and correct; writing using emotionally charged words and the common touch, bandwagon, testimonial and card stacking techniques; writing letters; describing what is seen, heard, smelled, tasted and felt; describing a character; writing fiction about real people or events; writing fiction that is true to life; writing a fairy tale, tall tale, fable, myth, legend, epic; rearranging words in sentences; using a simile, metaphor, hyperbole, personification, onomatopoeia; developing a story plot and revising what is written.

Teaching Writing, Book 2, includes lessons to teach students to write a drama, biography, autobiography, essay, exposition, anecdote, comedy, farce, parody, pun, diary, journal, tragedy, news article, dialects, dialogue, monologue, flashback, allusion, ballad, sonnet, limerick, haiku, epigram, blank and free verse, narrative and lyric poems, concrete poem, synecdoche, metonymy, transferred epithet, symbol, allegory, paradox, analogy, aphorism, elegy, epigram, folklore, idyll, and oratory. It also includes directives for teaching students to write from a first- and a third-person point of view, how to use over- and understatement, irony and satire in their writing, and how to write and rewrite to change the distance in time between an incident and the speaker.

If the process and skill of writing is taught from the beginning of a child's school experience, and if the child is given daily writing activities, writing becomes as natural to the child as reading. A model is provided for students to follow as they are taught each skill.

|-------|--|---------|
| TT009 | Teaching Grammar for Sentence Reading and Writing (Two Volumes)(Authors: Ethna R. Reid and William R. Slager) | $44.95 |
|-------|--|---------|

These books contain 87 lessons in three parts. Part I includes common forms of sentences: statement, question, exclamation, and request/command. Part II helps students recognize basic word classes and sentence functions: nouns, subjects, pronouns, the verb “be,” and other single word verbs. It concludes with a review of the sentences through the practicing of “yes/no” questions and negative statements. Part III continues word classes and sentence functions by introducing basic sentence types, such as Subject-Verb, Subject-Verb-Object, Subject-Verb-Indirect Object-Direct Object, etc.

Every series of lessons ends in a writing activity in which students are able to demonstrate their understanding of each grammatical component.

TT010 Personally Speaking $15.95
(Author: Ethna R. Reid)

Included in Personally Speaking are lessons to teach students to pantomime, present announcements, and give extemporaneous speeches. Students are taught about pitch and tone of voice, rate, and intonation. Through this instruction students will feel more comfortable as they speak in front of people at school and other activities.

TT011-1 ECRI Informal Reading Inventory (IRI), Parts 1 and 2 $28.95
(Authors: Ethna R. Reid, Maurine C. Winterton, Linda R. Perkes, Myra J. Bridwell)

This text includes a programmed instructional introduction to administer and score an Informal Reading Inventory (IRI) test for placing pupils at appropriate reading grade levels. Divided into two parts, one for elementary students, and one for secondary students and adults. Each part for elementary and secondary students has 17 graded levels of reading difficulty: PP, P, 1-1, 1-2, etc. Reading difficulty is similar for the elementary and secondary selections on each level, but themes are appropriate to the ages of the reader. Students can be tested on oral reading accuracy, oral and silent reading rates, and comprehension. Parents and teachers may copy the scoring pages for their students.

TT011-2 ECRI Informal Reading Inventory (IRI), Part 3 $30.95
(Author: Ethna R. Reid)

This text contains graded level materials from grade six through grade sixteen. Themes include topics such as math, physiology, literature, and ecology. It contains information on administering and scoring the IRI test. Scoring pages may be copied.

---

TT011-3 ECRI Informal Reading Inventory (IRI), Parts 4 and 5 $16.95
(Author: Ethna R. Reid)

This text includes 28 graded-level selections from preprimer (PP) level through grade nine. The 14 selections for elementary and the 14 selection for secondary students are similar, but themes are appropriate to the ages of the reader. Information about administering and scoring the IRI test is included in this book.

---

TT013 Lesson Plan Book for Reading/Language Arts $9.95

This planner is used to organize the teaching of language lessons in ECRI textbooks.

TT015 Spanish Directives $25.95

Direct instruction in Spanish for teaching new words through seven different methods, teaching sounds, penmanship, spelling, and literal and inferential comprehension. This text is recommended for those teaching English words to Spanish-speaking students or teaching the reading of Spanish.

TT016-1 Enriching a Child's Literacy Environment (ECLE) with Full Packet

$59.95

(Authors: Shauna R. Tateoka, Kathleen R. Barlow)

Book 1 describes month-by-month small and large muscle coordination activities, sensory stimulation for oral language development, reading and mathematics readiness activities, music and rhythm activities, concept development, and the presentation of children's literature. It also contains a packet of numerals and shapes. Books 2 and 3 contain suggestions for teaching science and mathematics to preschoolers and kindergartners. An organization manual is included which contains program information and additional lesson materials.

START READING PRINTED PROGRAM

A comprehensive system to teach students to name and write letters, read sounds, read and write words and stories, develop literal, interpretative, critical, and creative comprehension. Exercises to develop phonemic awareness are built into the early part of the program.

A child's future success in school and later life is dependent upon his/her ability to read, write, and comprehend the written word.

The sequential introduction of phonic skills, new vocabulary, spelling, writing, and comprehension skills insures mastery by every learner. The printed storybooks are also enjoyed by the children. The 15 workbooks purchased with the storybooks thrill parents and teachers by providing materials necessary for effective instruction. After each workbook is successfully completed by the child, and all of the letter names, hand-writing, sounds and words have been taught, the child is tested for mastery. A mastery test is found at the end of each workbook. Flash cards are also in each workbook.

The children are now able to read along in the accompanying storybook. As they read, they follow a beautifully illustrated story. The teacher/parent asks questions that are provided after the story is read to test the children's comprehension or understanding of the story.

Each succeeding workbook and storybook teaches thoroughly the new skills and reviews those previously taught. Each workbook tests for mastery before children move on.

COMPLETE PRINTED SETS (Includes stories, handwriting practice, naming letters exercises, reading sounds and words, spelling, phonemic awareness exercises, comprehension, and more)
